State Librarian's Report

The 1979-80 biennium, my first full biennium as State Librarian, has been for the Department of Libraries a combination of exciting events, including the Second Vermont Governor's Conference for Better Libraries, and consolidation after the 1978 reorganization of services based on recommendations made by the Governor's Cost Control Council. Despite a small reduction in staff resulting from the cost study, the department has made significant progress in all aspects of statewide library services during the past two years. This continued progress can be attributed to careful planning, but even more to the creative efforts of a dedicated staff and to the support and cooperation of the library community throughout Vermont. Some of the highlights of FY79 and FY80 were:

*The Second Vermont Governor's Conference for Better Libraries, held in Montpelier in April, 1979.

*Vermont's delegation of nine participated in the White House Conference on Library and Information Services in Washington, D.C., in November, 1979.

*Department of Libraries reorganized services in FY79.

*Extensive two-year microfilming project to preserve historical Vermont newspapers in the Law and Documents Unit begun.

*Minimum Standards for Vermont Public and Community Libraries revised and approved as Administrative Rules by the Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules.

*Task Force on Children's Services published and distributed final report.

*National Endowment for the Humanities awarded department a grant to carry out "The Toy as a Cultural Resource" in eight public libraries.

*Vermont Council on the Humanities and Public Issues awarded Department a grant to develop adult film/discussion models for public libraries.

*Continuing education program expanded to include offerings for trained as well as untrained librarians.

*Cooperative library programming for children with Vermont Council on the Arts expanded.

*Annual Elva Sophronia Smith Lecture Series begun in FY79.

*New and significantly different distribution methods for films initiated.

*HOSPICE collection and referral service housed in Special Services Unit.

*Specialized Vermont and public service materials taped for blind and physically handicapped.

*Department of Libraries joined NELINET.

*Vermont Union Catalog expanded to include children's materials and school library collections.

With support from Governor Snelling, interested citizens, and the library community as a whole, the most significant library event in Vermont during the biennium just past was the two-day Second Vermont Governor's Conference for Better Libraries, which, after a year of planning, was held in Montpelier on April 26 and 27, 1979. Over 200 Vermonters representing a variety of backgrounds, lifestyles, and viewpoints came together as delegates and worker bees with the common goal of finding new ways to improve library services to Vermonters. Small discussion groups generated 40 resolutions which were considered by the delegates. Several of the 28 resolutions that passed have been implemented in the two years since the conference, but there is much yet to be done if Vermont is to insure future access to information for all of its citizens.

Nine delegates and alternates elected at the Second Vermont Governor's Conference for Better Libraries went on to represent Vermont admirably at the White House Conference on Library and Information Services in November, 1979. The Vermont delegation deserves commendation for its dedication and for its contribution to the positive outcomes. William W. Pearson, Chairman of the Vermont delegation, was elected from 700 delegates to the ten-member Final Resolutions Committee for the national conference and its follow-up. Just as the results of the White House Conference will impact on national library policy and legislation, the Vermont Governor's Conference and its priorities will impact on statewide library services in Vermont for the next decade.

Although the biennium included implementing and consolidating Department of Libraries services and programs as recommended by the Governor's Cost Control Council, the Board of Libraries and staff found time and energy to initiate several exciting new projects.

The Law and Documents Unit was awarded $82,000 by the General Assembly to carry out a microfilming project which will span two bienniums and will result in securing and preserving for the future the collection of historical Vermont and New England newspapers housed in the department. Filming the newspaper collection will also provide desperately needed additional stack space for the expanding legal and document collections.

In FY79-80 the incentive grant program took a step forward in three respects. First, the program was funded at a substantial level in both years with 76 libraries receiving grants in FY80 and 75 in FY79. Second, revision of the standards, initiated by the Board of Libraries in FY78, culminated in FY80 with official adoption of the Minimum Standards for Vermont Public and Community Libraries Step I & II as Administrative Rules by the Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules. Third, in FY80 the Board adopted an appeals procedure for those libraries dissatisfied with its decision on grant awards. The first appeals hearing was held in FY80 with several libraries appealing the decisions which declared them ineligible for grants. As time goes on, it becomes increasingly evident that the incentive grant program established almost ten years ago continues to help local libraries improve information services to Vermonters.

Reference, research and interlibrary loan services increased in both volume and quality during the biennium. The consolidation of the Law and Documents and Reference Services Units brought closer together the major research and information resources in the areas of law, federal and state documents, Vermontiana, Vermont newspapers, library science materials, and the foundation collection.

The Reference Services Unit continued to expand the Vermont Resource Sharing Network which includes the interlibrary loan system, the teletype network, the Vermont Union Catalog, and the DOL/UVM Access Office located at the University of Vermont's Bailey/Howe Library. In addition to continuing the availability of automated bibliographic retrieval for all Vermont libraries, the Reference Services Unit, as the final level for interlibrary loan statewide, handled 27,076 interlibrary loan requests. In addition, two new facets expanded the Vermont Union Catalog during FY79-80. First, juvenile materials of all types were added to the catalog, making location and retrieval of children's materials readily available through the statewide interlibrary loan network. Second, a concerted effort was begun in FY80 to bring school library collections into the Vermont Union Catalog to help broaden availability and variety of materials and to ease the lending burden on all types of libraries. This effort, only just begun, will be a priority in the FY81-82 biennium.

Because new means of cooperation in all areas of library service will be an absolute necessity in the future, the Board of Libraries, as a first step, established a Task Force to study all aspects of cooperation involving public libraries below the state level and to make recommendations for improving cooperative efforts in the future. The report and recommendations of this task force will be made early in FY82.

Service to users with special needs made tremendous gains in recent years. Since the department was designated Vermont's Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped in 1977, circulation of the unit doubled to almost 70,000 in FY80, as did the number of borrowers, now estimated at over 1,500. In addition to providing materials, the staff initiated several new projects in FY79 and FY80, including new programs for residents of state-supported institutions in cooperation with other state agencies and a new program to record current Vermont periodicals and other reading materials as well as public meetings that would be of interest to the visually handicapped.

Also, in FY79 the HOSPICE program was initiated at the department to house and disseminate relevant material and to act as an information and referral service in alternative care for the terminally ill.

Library service to children of Vermont continued to make remarkable gains in the biennium. The most significant step was the before-mentioned addition of children's materials as an integral part of the Vermont Resource Sharing Network, thus insuring statewide access to information for Vermonters of all ages. Equally important for Vermont's library community was the publication and dissemination of the report of the Department of Libraries Task Force on Children's Services entitled Recommendations for Public Library Services to Children in Vermont. This publication, which received national recognition, sets forth realistic and achievable standards for library service to children in small to very small rural public libraries.

Another exciting new feature in the area of children's services was the first annual Elva Sophronia Smith Lecture in FY79 which offered sessions for children and a lecture for librarians working with children and which was given by children's author, Natalie Babbitt in FY79. In FY80, Newbery Medal winner Ellen Raskin was the featured speaker.

In addition to initiating new means to stimulate library service to Vermont's children, the Children's Services Consultant also continued and expanded ongoing programs. The very successful Poetry in the Public Library Workshops, offered cooperatively with the Vermont Council on the Arts, grew to include other disciplines, were renamed Artists in the Public Library Workshops, and were offered to public libraries on a competitive grant basis. Programs using performers from the Vermont Council on the Arts Touring Artist Register have also continued to be available to public library activity in even the smallest towns. Over 65 public libraries participated in this successful program in FY80.

The department was also fortunate to receive two major grants from outside sources in FY80. The first and largest grant, entitled "The Toy as a Cultural Resource", was awarded $47,155 by the National Endowment for the Humanities. Eight public libraries throughout the state will participate in exploring how the toy has reflected changes in society and has shaped skills, values, and concepts later affecting adult society's attitudes and actions toward children and education. The grant provides for a travelling exhibit of toys, a catalog, slide archives, a core collection of materials, and public programs for adults in each of the participating public libraries.

The second grant in the amount of $10,644 was awarded to the Department of Libraries Audio Visual Services Unit by the Vermont Council on the Humanities and Public Issues. The grant provides for the purchase of several films and the development of coordinated public adult discussion programs to help public libraries in Vermont offer ongoing programs using films. Although the two grants were awarded in FY80, actual implementation is not scheduled until FY81 and FY82, and we look forward to their success with eager anticipation.

It is apparent that the department has undertaken many exciting and innovative projects in FY79 and FY80. However, the success of the programs would not have been possible without a dedicated and energetic staff to carry on a continually escalating day-to-day work load efficiently. Statistics indicate that ongoing Department of Libraries services for individuals and for public, academic, school, and special libraries continued to grow as did efforts in continuing education and consulting services. The continuing education program of the Department of Libraries was maintained at the highest level in recent memory with agency staff in all disciplines called upon to conduct workshops to improve the skills of Vermonters involved with libraries. In FY79 and FY80 the department sponsored 243 educational and training sessions in various areas of library service. Although most offerings were designed, as in the past, to upgrade the skills of librarians who lacked professional training, a new dimension was added in FY80 with a management institute especially designed for trained librarians. Because the response from this group was favorable, offerings for this group will be added to the continuing education program each year.

The regional libraries also continued to experience growth in most aspects of the program. Circulation, which has been on an upward swing for the past five years, continued to climb with 269,175 books circulated in FY80 as compared to 249,915 in FY78. The number of visitors to the regions also rose to 35,441 in FY80 from 31,038 in FY78 and 29,548 in FY76. During FY79 and FY80, the regional library staffs assisted local librarians on 907 occassions. In addition, the regional libraries handled 43,804 specific requests for materials as compared to 35,638 requests in FY78. The encouraging note here is that two-thirds of the requests could be filled at the regional library level. The regional library program, serving both libraries and individuals, continues to be the Department of Libraries program which has the broadest base of support in that its various services touch almost every library patron in the state.

The demand on the department's film service by libraries, institutions, community organizations and schools remained high with 15,097 films circulated in FY80 as compared to 12,833 in FY78. Because of a dramatic increase in the number of requests that could not be filled (especially from schools during 1973-78), alternative methods of film distribution were studied. A new subscription plan for circulating films to agencies not covered by existing federal guidelines was instituted in FY79. The results have been positive in that the number of films circulated has increased, but the number of requests that had to refused declined from 6,459 in FY78 to 3,498 in FY80. One of our ongoing challenges is the search for improvements in the film service so that the number of refusals of requests can continue to decline.

Cooperation between the Department of Libraries and the three Vermont library associations continued to flourish during the biennium. We hope that cooperative planning and programming by all the library-related organizations has resulted in improved library service to Vermonters both at the local level and through the auspices of statewide programs. The Department of Libraries staff has contributed its expertise to the Vermont Library Association, the Vermont Library Trustees Association, and the Vermont Educational Media Association by planning and participating in programs and by serving in association offices and committee assignments. Officers and representatives of the library organizations were an integral part of the planning for and implementation of the Second Vermont Governor's Conference for Better Libraries in FY79. The associations and their representatives have also had an impact on ongoing department policy and programs by serving on department advisory committees and task forces.

The department's staff has also been active in regional and national library activities including the White House Conference on Library and Information Services and its preliminary New England regional meetings. In the past two years, members of the staff have also increased their participation in regional and national associations by chairing committees and by involving themselves as coordinators of speakers at major programs. Since 1979, I have had the honor of being chairperson of the New England Library Board which derives its authority from the New England Interstate Compact.

Because technology will play a significant role in all aspects of library service, the department in FY79 joined NELINET (New England Library Information Network). Although the Department of Libraries is not yet actively participating in NELINET services with state-of-the-art equipment, it is studying alternatives to present modes of operation in cataloging, interlibrary cooperation, circulation and the Vermont Union Catalog. The FY81-FY82 biennium should provide for new developments in technology and cooperation that will affect the department specifically and statewide library services generally.

The past two years have been both exciting and productive for the Department of Libraries as we see that, even with constant fiscal constraints, library service to Vermonters improved at all levels of access. Because the demand for access to information is expected to increase significantly, we must now look to the challenges of the next few years with optimism, resolve and imagination despite predictions of rapidly increasing costs and severe financial setbacks.

In closing I want to take this opportunity to thank Governor Snelling and his staff for their help and support, not only through the planning and implementation of the Second Vermont Governor's Conference for Better Libraries, but also in planning for the future and in solving ongoing problems of the department. I also want to thank the department's dedicated and hardworking staff, as well as librarians and trustees throughout the state for their interest, cooperation and assistance. Special thanks must go to the Vermont Board of Libraries for their concern, support and willingness to face difficult challenges. The Board Chair, Osmer C. Fitts and Vice Chair, Jean Swain have provided able leadership, and all Board members have been most effective in working together to improve library services to all Vermonters.

Statistics of Local Libraries

Explanatory Notes

Public library statistics have been separated from those of other libraries (academic, hospital, institutional, special, school, etc.) and appear first. In both cases, libraries are arranged by municipality, with incorporated towns in upper case letters.

DIRECTORY NO. - refers to listing in VERMONT LIBRARY DIRECTORY, 1981

LIBRARY - the word "library" has been dropped from each name

REPORT FOR YEAR ENDING - given due to variation in fiscal years used by individual libraries

POPULATION - 1970 census figures are used, and population is given for a town as a whole only, not for villages, fire districts, etc., within a town

GRAND LIST - 1980 property tax valuation of the town as a whole is given

TAX APPROPRIATION - the source of tax support, whether from town, village, fire district, neighboring town, etc., or a combination, has not be ascertained. Income in kind (heat, lights, rent, etc.) has not generally been included, but, if the library received in-kind support, it is noted with an asterisk (*)

TOTAL INCOME - includes gifts, trust income, grant funds, etc., as well as tax and revenue sharing support, but not in-kind support

TAX SUPPORT PER CAPITA - revenue sharing and any known in-kind support were added to tax support, and the total was then divided by the population of the town as a whole. Because the actual population base providing the tax support and the income received in kind cannot always be ascertained, this figure may only be a rough estimate in some cases.

LIBRARY MATERIALS EXPENDITURES - includes books, periodicals, films, recordings, and other non-book materials, but not supplies

TOTAL EXPENDITURES - it is possible that overhead (heat, lights, etc.) has not been included

VOLUMES ADDED - generally, books added during the year ending on the date given

TOTAL VOLUMES - in a few instances this figure may include non-book materials

NUMBER OF REGISTERED BORROWERS - children and adults. In many cases, records are not kept

CIRCULATION - total circulation of all forms of library materials, including books owned by the Department of Libraries and circulated locally

NUMBER OF HOURS OPEN - in winter only

Public libraries which met the Vermont Minimum Standards for Public and Community Libraries in 1981 are designated with a dot(•) before the name of the municipality in which they are located.

Vermont Library Directory, 1981

Explanatory Notes

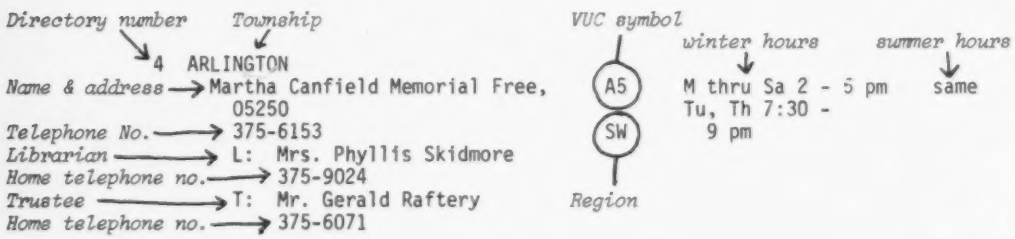
The Vermont Library Directory, 1981 is a revised edition of the Vermont Library Directory, 1979 which was included in the Biennial Report of the Vermont Department of Libraries, July 1, 1976 to June 30, 1978. It is not necessary to retain any previous directory of Vermont libraries although the statistics found in the biennial report may be useful for future comparison.

Corrections, additions and deletions will be published in the bi-monthly Department of Libraries newsletter so that this directory may be kept up to date. Please report corrections, additions and deletions to:

Kent Gray, Assistant State Librarian
State of Vermont
Department of Libraries
c/o State Office Building Post Office
Montpelier, VT 05602
(802) 828-3261

Libraries are arranged alphabetically by the township in which they are located. The authority used to determine what is a township is the Vermont Year Book published annually by The National Survey in Chester, Vermont. Cross-references are provided. When more than one library is located in a township, the public library (or libraries) is listed first followed by the other libraries arranged alphabetically by institution.

Following is a sample listing with an explanation of each entry:



Directory number - will be used by the Department of Libraries newsletter when listing changes.

Township - in upper case letters. If a library is in a specific village within a township, the village is given in lower case letters as the location (for example, see #6, East Arlington).

Name & Address - the word "library" has been dropped from the end of each library's name. The mailing address follows the name, and if the post office is the same as the township, it has also been dropped. Please note that some libraries' mailing addresses do not correspond to the township or village in which they are located (for example, see #50, BRIGHTON).

VUC symbol - the Vermont Union Catalog symbol is used as a short form notation on catalog cards supplied by libraries to the Vermont Union Catalog and in communications dealing with interlibrary loan and resource sharing.

Winter hours - Generally, these hours apply from September through June. For specific dates of change between winter and summer hours, contact the library.

Summer hours - Usually, these apply in July and August.

Telephone no. - Usually, the library's business number (if there is one) unless otherwise noted. The area code is 802 unless otherwise indicated. If the library has a teletype (TWX) number, it is listed below the telephone number (for example, see #66, BURLINGTON).

Librarian, Home telephone no. - If a telephone number is given, it is usually the librarian's personal home number and should be used with discretion.

Region - refers to the Vermont Department of Libraries region in which a library is located:

M	Midstate region
NE	Northeast region
NW	Northwest region
SE	Southeast region
SW	Southwest region

Trustee, Home telephone no. - If given, the name is that of the last reported Chairperson or President of a public library's Board of Trustees.

Indexes to this Directory:

- Libraries by Type - listed alphabetically by location with the township in all upper case letters (see below)
- Public Libraries by Region - also listed alphabetically by location
- Names of Libraries (other than Geographic Place Names)
- Subject Strengths and Special Collections - subjects reported by librarians are listed alphabetically with locations noted by VUC symbols. When attempting to judge the degree of strength, refer to the type of library, the size of its collection and/or explicit indication of designated special collections.
- Vermont Union Catalog (VUC) symbols
- Public Libraries which have Friends of the Library Groups
- Public Library Cooperative Activities
